From the top

The name of the game is teamwork.

Ever notice how a game is even better when you're playing with a friend? That's because playing together you can find tricks that you both would have missed playing alone.

That's called teamwork, and no matter what you're doing, it always seems better when you're part of a team. Kind of like being in the Power Club.™ We give you news and tips, and you give us your opinions (and tips).

The question is, what can we do to make the Power Club team thing even better for all of us? Well, if you turn to the back cover of this issue, you'll see something the whizkids of Power Club Central have come up with — the hottest road show of this or any summer — The Nintendo Challenge.™

The Nintendo Challenge is 20 tons of steel and electronic games power hurtling your way on cosmic wheels. Step inside, and you'll have a chance to show your stuff on one of the most popular Nintendo games ever: Super Mario Bros.® Better yet, with over 10,000 dollars in prizes up for grabs, it could be your chance to win.

• Daily Prizes. To the high-scoring player of the day, we'll be giving a chance of a Nintendo game pak or an NES Advantage. Either one makes a great reward for having a great time playing Super Mario Bros.

• Championship Prize. We'll be sending the top players from across the country to a specially-selected site where they'll compete for a really cool Prize Pak. What's in the Prize Paks is a secret, but I can tell you that it will include a great new game controller you've never seen before that's going to blow your mind.

Check out the back cover of this issue of the Power Flash for more info, and get set to PLAY WITH POWER!

In the meantime, we've got a great issue lined up for you: Nintendo's first in-depth look at the new Nintendo Power Pad, a complete overview map of Hyrule from Zelda II—The Adventure of Link, an advance look at the meanest "cobra" yet, Cobra Triangle, and much, much more.

Remember, if you want the Power Club to keep getting better, the name of the game is teamwork. So watch out for The Nintendo Challenge, and be part of the team!

P.S. Thanks from all the gang here at Power Club Central for all the great Valentine's cards. You're the best!

POWER PAD™

We all know that video gaming is physical stuff. After all, when you're into your game, you feel every move.

Well here's something that'll really keep you on your toes — the brand new Nintendo Power Pad, a new dimension in video game play.

Plug the Power Pad into your NES, put it on the floor in front of your TV and the whole room becomes an electronic playground. You can run, jump, hop and dance while watching your movements come to life on the screen in front of you.

It can even help your other game skills. Now when you "hit the wall" in Metroid or The Legend of Zelda®, you can save your game and spend 15 minutes on the Power Pad.

You'll find it gives you new energy for fighting the Mother Brain.

So limber up, limbo down, and get ready for the most fun on the run you've ever had — the Nintendo Power Pad.

ON YOUR MARK... GET SET

As you look at the track stretching 100 metres in front of you, you know this is going to be the race of a lifetime.

Your opponent looks fit and ready. But the key to winning the 100-Metre Dash isn't just how fast you run... it's keeping your concentration 'til the moment you cross the finish line.

Welcome to World Class Track Meet!™ Like any good video game, this one involves all kinds of mental gymnastics.

Lead on your feet in the Long Jump.

The difference is that it's a physical challenge too. So when you're going for the Long Jump record, it's not just how you take off, but how you land that matters too.

Go off out for the 100-Metre Dash.

Same thing with the 110-Metre Hurdles. The trick is in the timing. You have to jump and land at just the right moment. And wait till you come up against the Triple Jump — it'll take all of your speed and stamina to do it, but you'll be up there with the best.

Once you've mastered the individual events, you're ready for tournament play. This is where you face opponents over a series of events, win medals, cups and trophies and earn the right to be called World Champion.

Get your limelight for the hurdles.

The great thing about World Class Track Meet is that every race can be the race of a lifetime. All it takes is guts and stamina. Have you got what it takes? Sure you do.

POWER PLAY

The summer camp that goes year round.

SUPER TEAM GAMES

How can you swim, skateboard, log hop and play tug of war without ever leaving the comfort of your own home? Easy, by playing Nintendo's Super Team Games™ on the Power Pad.

Super Team Games is 10 events like the kind you find at summer camp—fun stuff like Belly Bump Ball, Crab Walk, Walt Jump, Bubble Run and Skateboard Race.

It takes skill to do the Crab Walk.

You can even set up a relay race where you and your friends play the computer for all the marbles. Imagine playing outdoor-type games, no matter what the weather. You'll never have to worry about getting muddy or wet, even when you're running crazy races like the Water Jump and the 6-Legged Race.

Log Hop

Skateboard Race

Bubble Run

Get wet even when you stay dry.

Want to take a break from running and jumping? Fine, how about a little skateboarding? Super Team Games lets you siptom and jump just like real life. But watch out—there are all kinds of obstacles to clear if you want to make it to the end.

Sitom and jump in the Skateboard Race.

For parties and family get-togethers, Super Team Games is a great way to get the whole crowd involved with Nintendo. All it takes is your NES, the Power Pad and the Super Team Games game pak. Then make like you're out in the woods, and go wild!

Dance your way to fun and fitness.

If you've ever seen those "workout" shows on TV, but thought the routines were too hard to follow, here's one you can set to your own pace. Dance Aerobics from Nintendo.

First, you choose the level of exercise you want to start at. With Dance Aerobics you can choose from introductory, Beginner's, Intermediate and Advanced classes. With each level you complete you get a "pass stamp number" that lets you move on to the next stage.

Dance Aerobics is easy and fun. You just watch the dance instructor on your TV screen do the foot and hand moves shown and follow along until you're crowned the Aerobics Champ.

But that's not all! Nintendo's Dance Aerobics doesn't just give you music and steps to work out to—it lets you play different kinds of "paid antics."

For instance, Tune Up lets you make music using the Power Pad. The screen shows you the Power Pad, and where the notes are. When you step on a note, it shows up on the music score, and you hear it played. It's a neat new way to exercise while playing your favourite tunes.

With Hot Melodies, the computer gives you a tune to follow along with. You just move your feet and "play along." Dino is another fun way to use the Power Pad and the Dance Aerobics game pak. The computer shows you where to put your feet and hands. But it's not always easy to do what you're told. You could find yourself twisted into all kinds of weird and wonderful shapes.

Remember...

All the Power Pad games have been designed for active fun. But whenever you do any exercise, always WARM UP first and don't go too long.

The Nintendo Power Pad adds a whole new meaning to the phrase "Video Game." Give it a try and discover just how good you can be when you're playing with Body Power!

Start by warming up.

Follow the instructor's lead.

Play a tune on the Power Pad—Oh Canada

ANTICIPATION

Now you can play Nintendo and be a social animal at the same time.

The name of the game is Anticipation, and while you can play against the computer, it's even more fun when you play with friends, your brothers and sisters, your parents, anyone (up to 3 of them at the same time). Why? Because the best part of Anticipation is "anticipating" the picture on the screen and beating your opponents to the answer

Strategy is important.

To play Anticipation, you watch the computer draw a picture and try to guess what it is. But you can answer all your questions right and still lose if you don't get all four category colours on each level. The trick is to figure out before you press the button how many squares you need to move to get the colours you need. Then watch the die and press the buzzer when it's at the right number. That way you'll move ahead the right number of squares.

Plan your moves so you get all four colours.

Count the dashes for a clue to the answer.

Count the number of dashes under the picture. That'll show you how many letters are in the answer and help you narrow it down when you think of more than one possible solution.

Fine tune your imagination.

When you start playing Anticipation, you might think it's pretty easy. But wait! There's an amazing variety of categories and puzzles in this game. And as you get further along, first the dots get fewer and fewer...then the letter dashes disappear...then you find yourself staring with a totally blank screen. At that point all you have to help you are your wits and your imagination.

And, of course, your natural sense of Anticipation!

RAMPAGE

Who would've thought an overgrown monkey and a king-size chameleon could be so popular? But George the Ape and Lizzie the Lizard were top hits in the arcade, and they're set to repeat in the world of Nintendo.

Then again, how often do you get a chance to smash and trosh your way through 128 cities? Obviously this game appeals to the mutant in all of us.

2-player mayhem makes it better.

One of the big attractions in this game is being able to play with a friend.

The twist is that, while you can both go after the good stuff in the buildings at the same time, if one of you turns back into a human before the other (maybe because you got hit once too often), the remaining mutant can catch and eat the human. (Which just goes to show, never trust a 20-foot mutant.)

Keep an eye on the sky (and everything else).

You've got a number of main enemies to watch out for in this monster madness: soldiers, helicopters, tanks and police cars.

Soldiers come with bombs, grenades, guns or parachutes. Catch a soldier and (urp) eat him and you'll get extra power. (But if he's got a bomb, wait till he puts it down or you're sure to get heartburn.) The vehicles will all be shooting at you. Smash them and you'll get big points.

Also watch out for thunder clouds — their lightning can really mess things up. And be sure you get photographers before their flash goes off. (Get the picture?)

Smash your way right across North America.

Never trust a 20-foot mutant.

Watch out for everything, including clouds.

Give yourself the NES Advantage!

There are two ways to get ahead fast in Nintendo: spend 12 hours a day practising in front of the TV or get the NES Advantage!

The Advantage means arcade action whenever you want it. The full-size joystick gives you more control than ever, great for winning at R.C. Pro-Am. Use slow motion to plot your strategy and get Samus through the perils of Metroid. Get Link out of tight spots with turbo rapid fire. (You can even adjust the turbo speed to suit your playing style.) Use turbo jumping power to help Mario skip the quicksand of Subcon.

And with its heavy metal base, you can set the Advantage down anywhere and have both hands free for action. Check out the NES Advantage for yourself — and get the power you really want!

Use Slow-mo to get Samus through Dabbs.

Turn Link into a turbo warrior.

Shortcut short takes!

Level 4-3: After riding Birdo's egg across the water, do not go in the first door. Instead, "B-run" past it (so you go super fast), and when you get to the edge of the platform, jump.

You'll find yourself in front of another door. Run past it to the second door, go inside, pick up the crystal ball, go through the mouth of the mask, and you'll be in instant combat with Fryguy.

Level 6-3: Right at the beginning of Level 6-3 there's a wall to the left. Below this wall is quicksand. Let Mario (or one of the other characters) sink into the quicksand until buried up to the nose. Keep the controller pushed to the left and push the A button continuously so that Mario keeps jumping. (If you stop pushing the A button, Mario will die.) It takes a little practice, but this trick lets you skip the entire world, which means you bypass a bunch of Bombombs without missing out on anything important.

Winning at the slot machine.

There are no real tips for the "slot machine" at the end of each round. You have to develop your eye so you know when to stop the "counters" and get as many free men as possible.

However, once you've acquired some gambling skill, there is a way to boost your coin count. When you have a few extra men, pick up some magic potion and throw it down where there are vegetables and where you can destroy yourself (near a cliff or waterfall). While you are in the shadow world, pull up the coins quickly, then destroy yourself before the shadow ends. When you start back, the potion will be there again. Repeat this until you are low on men. You should get lots of coins for the next time you play the slot machine.

again. Repeat this until you are low on men. You should get lots of coins for the next time you play the slot machine.

Find the hidden energy tanks.

Scattered throughout the Planet Zebes there are six energy tanks which are visible to the naked eye, plus two which are hidden. Look for the first hidden tank on the ceiling of the 3rd screen to the right of where the game starts. After you have uncovered the tank, use your ice beam to freeze a zoomer or skree, then jump on it to get to the tank. Look for the second hidden energy tank in Kraid's lair, in Brinstar.

You'll find the second hidden energy tank in Kraid's lair.

Use your bario power to reach the tank.

Kung Fu

The fair Sylvia has been captured by the evil gang leader, Mr. X. He has her tied up on the top floor of his "castle". To get to her, you have to go through Mr. X. But first you have to kick, jump and punch your way past his army of henchmen and his arsenal of tricks.

You'll come face to face with the slow but very strong Giant, the deadly Black Magician and the evil Tam Tam Brothers. And watch out for dragons, snakes and poisonous moths.

Kung Fu is flying fists and feet galore. Classic action for your Nintendo Entertainment System!

SESAME STREET® A-B-C/1-2-3

Ermie, Grover, Big Bird and Cookie Monster – the Sesame Street gang is joining forces with your Nintendo Entertainment System to revolutionize pre-school education.

Introducing Sesame Street 1,2,3 and Sesame Street A,B,C, two games guaranteed to entertain (and educate) pre-schoolers between the ages of 3 and 6. They give youngsters a chance to play with their favourite Sesame Street characters while developing their sense of curiosity and love of learning.

So come along for a lesson in wide-eyed wonder as we take a Sneak Peek at Sesame Street for the NES.

Sesame Street 1,2,3

Look up in the stars! It's Astro-Grover, here to help children count, add and subtract the Zips from the planet Zip. With five levels of play, from "How many Zips?" to "Sum Up, Sum Down", Astro-Grover takes young minds where no number has gone before.

Astro-Grover and his friends the most helpful children count in "How many Zips?"

Ernie and Bert help kids when they match the shapes and colors correctly.

Get the answers right and watch the toys come to life in front of you.

And who's that with the magic wand? Why, it's Ernie the magician. Ernie's Magic Shop takes kids through six levels of colour, shape and pattern recognition. There's even a magical rabbit to help kids find the right answer. It's sure to put a spell on the whole family.

Sesame Street A,B,C

Step right up to the whirling ferns wheel. The Letter-Go-Round is here to help children practice letter recognition and simple spelling. Big Bird, Cookie Monster and Grover lead the way through a carnival of fun and learning.

And to help young minds take that first step into the world of planning and problem-solving, Ernie's Big Splash poses the dilemma, "How can Ernie find his Rubber Duckie?" You'll watch with bated breath as your little ones help Ernie build the pathway he needs.

Sesame Street games are a great lesson in how to get even more from your Nintendo Entertainment System. Now if we could only get Guy to stop miffing Rubber Duckie, Rubber...

COBRA TRIANGLE

When you're steering the fastest of the fast boats, they call it Cobra Class.

When your boat has been specially modified to take on any and all opposition, they call it Cobra Triangle. This is where you push your skill and reflexes to the very limit on every level.

Cobra Triangle may start out looking like just another boat race, but by the time you're finished, you'll be longing with all kinds of hazards – from waterfalls to whirlpools, sharks to space ships, sea mines to sea monsters!

In simple terms, Cobra Triangle is a race – but a race unlike any you've ever seen before. You have to battle other boats for the win. Along the way you pick up Pods and zoom over ramps to pick up Power-Up items and Surprises. There are helpless swimmers looking for your protection from kidnappers and aiting targets you can shoot for bonus points and weapons.

Cobra Triangle is 25 stages of high speed, non-stopping action that's sure to get your engines revving and your pulse racing. If you enjoy the high-speed action of R.C. Pro-Am and Rod Racer and the rescue mission dramatics of Cobra Command, you're going to love Cobra Triangle.

Get extra points when you spin out of the finish line.

Protect the swimmers from villains.

Take on scary sea monsters for big points.

ZELDA II - THE ADVENTURE OF LINK

by Andrew Camello,
Weston, Ont.

To find the powerful knight in the town of Darunia, ask the doors of each house by pressing B at each door. You should find a door that will say "There's someone behind the door". Count three rooftops to the left of that house. Use your Jump magic and jump on that third roof. Jump across the rooftops until you reach the house where you heard the door talk. Jump on top of the chimney and press down. You will drop and find yourself in the house. Go right and into the basement to find the knight.

by Charles Earl, St. Thomas, Ont.

In the game Zelda II - The Adventure of Link, it's very difficult to get Thunder and Spell magics, but I know how! When you have 7 Magic containers, go to the HIDDEN town of Kasuto. An old lady there will give you the last Magic container in her house. Go in to the second open door. An old magician will teach you the Spell magic. Now go to the very edge of town where you'll find a high wall. Use your new Spell magic. A building will appear out of nowhere. Go in and you'll find the Magical Key.

After getting these three items, go to the "dead" town of Kosuto. Go into the first house. A magician will teach you Thunder magic.

SUPER MARIO BROS.

by Benjamin Nagy

Some beginning tips for Super Mario Bros. On level 1-1, just between the half-way mark and the 4th flowerpot, is an invisible 1-Up Mushroom. And, if you're a real pro, you could probably go back on the flowerpot and press the down button. The next thing you know is that you are in a secret room with tons and tons of coins! And when you leave, it's even a shortcut! Good luck.

SUPER MARIO BROS.

by Eric Emard and Kevin Locasle,
Vancouver, B.C.

Dear Nintendo,

We have a great trick for all you Super Mario Bros. fans!

Mario (or Luigi), of course, starts off small, and with a Magic Mushroom he turns to Super Mario, and then a flower turns Super Mario into Fiery Super Mario, right? But we found a way to have Mario (or Luigi) shoot fireballs when he is small!

What you have to do is make it to the end of a world (e.g. 1-4, 2-4, 3-4, etc.). Now proceed to the end of the level and reach the dragon still as Super Mario or Fiery Super Mario. Now, don't kill the dragon, but jump over him and go to the end of the platform. Now the dragon will turn around and try to get you. You have to wait till he is a millimeter away from you (not exactly a millimeter, but close) then jump, and you have to land on the dragon's head and the cap or exactly the same time. Then Mario will flash but stay big. On the next level, Mario still big, will get a mushroom and turn small and then get a flower and he will shoot fireballs but still be small.

RAD RACER

by Brian J. Carpenter and Cory J. Cudmore, Brantford, Ontario

In the Winter 1988 Edition of the Nintendo Power Flash, Joshua Simpson told of a way to choose the level that you wanted to race on in Rad Racer. Experimenting a little with this, we discovered that you can go through the tachometer 8 times, then press the upper right button quadrant of the control pad and the start button of the same time and see what happens. A word of caution to the driver, DON'T LEAVE YOUR KEYS IN THE IGNITION!!!

THE LEGEND OF ZELDA

by Anonymous

In the second quest of (The Legend of Zelda), Level 3, the map is shaped like an "L", with two little pieces far away from the map. The way to get the Triforce is to go up one board in Level 3, then go right, kill all the dinosaurs (Dodongos) in the board and get the heart container and go down. Kill all the Hounds and get the compass. When you get the compass, push a block, go down the staircase and when you get out go up and get your Triforce.

A NINTENDO SONATA

(sung to the tune of "On top of Old Smokey") by Ryan Gregory, Orillia, Ont.

He captured poor Zelda,
He took her away,
So I became a true hero,
When I beat him that day

I chopped him with plossures,
I dropped him with pride,
I couldn't have missed him,
He was lorty feel wide

All of his handmen,
Just broke down and
cried,
(Because their fat leader,
Had recently died)

But he could come back now,
In Zelda Part II,
You are the hero,

ICE HOCKEY CHAMPIONS

The playoffs have begun, and at the time we went to press with this issue, the following Power Club members were our Ice Hockey stars.

Despite what we said last issue about the scoring spread, it seems you people are even better than we expected — and you have the photographs to prove it. As Michael Stone puts it, "My dad, 16 year old brother and the neighbours won't play me any more because I always beat them. That's why I have to play the computer".

Here, then, are our 8 top scorers, plus the only shutout score we've received so far.

PLAYER	SCORE	SPREAD
Daniel Sibeau Sorel, Que	99 to 2	97 goals
Thanh Pham Calgary, Alta	99 to 4	95 goals
Michael Stone Fisher, Ont	99 to 9	90 goals
Bruce Menard St-Laurant, Que	84 to 3	81 goals
Andre French Toronto, Ont	90 to 12	78 goals
Josh Winter Ottawa, Ont	80 to 7	73 goals
Donovan Hyman Calgary, Alta	58 to 11	47 goals
Steven Rescan Calville, Ont	46 to 0	SHUTOUT

NINTENDO MOTORSPORTS

Get ready for the green flag to drop. Summer's here and the time is right for racing on the screen. The video screen. Yep, put on your racing gloves and show us what you can do at the wheel of a Rad Racer® or R.C. Pro-Am®. Pick your wheels and rack up the laps. Go as far as you can and photograph the results. Give it your best shot, then send it to us. All materials must be received by July 7, 1989 to be included in our next issue. You could be the next one to top the Nintendo charts. (Remember, for best results when photographing a screen, turn off the room lights and photograph without using a flash.)

A word to the wise...

Just a reminder Nintendo fans, Nintendo is a registered trademark belonging to Nintendo.

That means that you are not allowed to use the word Nintendo, the names of Nintendo games or any characters associated with Nintendo video games in any kind of commercial activity, business, charity, fund-raising event, or other things of that nature.

In other words, while it's O.K. to use the word Nintendo when it's just for fun (like when you're putting together a local chapter of the Power Club), it's an absolute no-no to use it in connection with anything that's geared to making money, or selling something. Clear enough? Great.

MAIL BAG

Dear Nintendo,

In school I was doing very bad. It was near the end of the year and I was about to fail if I failed another test. I asked my dad if he would buy me a Nintendo, but he said no. I begged him all week, and he finally made me a deal. He said if I worked really hard in school and I pass he would buy me a Nintendo. Well every night I was up studying instead of watching TV because I wanted a Nintendo so bad. I worked hard until the end of the year. Finally the report cards came out. I could hardly believe it. I passed!

The school was amazed, everyone congratulated me. I got home and showed my dad, he almost fainted! But he kept his promise and bought me a Nintendo. I have learned a lesson from all this instead of being lazy, I work hard of everything I do in fact, thanks to the Nintendo I am practically a straight A student. Thanks again.

Chris Gaudet, Kelowna, B.C.

We've always believed that the NES is an educational toy. Just look at what it does for your hand to eye coordination. And then there are other "lessons" it can teach you, as you'll find out in this next letter...

Dear Nintendo,

I want to thank you for your excellent and oddball games. Two weeks ago that addiction prevented a possible house fire! I woke up at 1:00 a.m. and couldn't get back to sleep, so I kept downloading to try my luck at Rod Racer. As I turned on my NES, I noticed a burning smell coming from the kitchen. I ran in and saw that someone had left the burner on the stove turned on all night. I quickly turned it off. If I hadn't had that urge to play on my NES, a deadly fire could have started. After that I got up to the last track in Rod Racer without continuing. Thanks again!

Patrick Winter, Toronto, Ontario

When I've heard of burning the midnight oil, but that's just a little too close for comfort. However, there are two good things to come out of your story Patrick—first of all, you managed to fix the situation before it became a major disaster, and secondly, now midnight video gamers everywhere have a really good excuse for playing all night long. Thanks for the letter.

Dear Nintendo,

I have started my own Power Club. It's going great. I started in February and already have 10 people

I named it the "Nintendo Troopers"!! Me and my friends get together every Friday after school. First they come to my house, next week we go to another's house. We hang up posters in school and in our neighborhood. We get about 4 people every month. If it weren't for you Nintendo I wouldn't have my own Power Club. THANKS!

Amor Sheriff, Toronto, Ontario

If there was a prize for starting the first local chapter of the Power Club, Amors, you would win it. Once we have a few more letters like yours we can start printing some local chapter names. Keep us posted on what your club gets up to.

Dear Guy Martin,

Just before Christmas 1988, we purchased our Nintendo Entertainment System. My wife and I had a week earlier purchased "another brand" which we were very disappointed with and immediately returned. Not knowing a great deal about video games or systems for the television, we reluctantly purchased the Nintendo Entertainment System, making sure we could return it and get our money refunded if we were not satisfied.

Much to our delight and surprise we couldn't believe the full screen, colour and graphics of this system. We are both adults, in our forties, and are not easily impressed, but we have nothing but praise for Nintendo.

Yvonne & Ed Ingram, Virginiatown, Ontario

That's the great thing about the NES—there are no age limitations whatsoever. Welcome to the forever-young Nintendo Universe folks, and happy gaming.

Dear Nintendo,

I just love my Nintendo! My most favourite game is THE LEGEND OF ZILDA. I can't wait to get the new game RAMPAGE. I have had my Nintendo since Christmas and I have loved it every moment since. I have a friend who has the other brand and even he likes Nintendo better. It just goes to show that even other brand users like Nintendo better. Chow for now and hope to see a lot of great new games (even though I know I will).

Josh Leggett, Belleville, Ontario

Aw shucks. We always get kinda mushy when we hear so many wonderful words of praise. Goes right to our heads. Good to know even the "other brand" buyers are seeing the light of day. Write on, Josh.

Dear Guy Martin,

Nintendo is the best way possible for some RADICAL action of home! Fast there was the discovery of fire, than the invention of the wheel. But let's face it, Nintendo beats these discoveries by far! My best friend Brent and I eat, sleep and breathe Nintendo. One last thing, the two player games are really AWESOME.

Mike Messenger, North Bay, Ontario

Careful Mike—it's O.K. to eat and sleep Nintendo, but you have to be careful about breathing it. Try mixing in just a little air once in a while. But seriously, if you like two-player games, check out this issue's Rampage review (you too, Josh) and if you want to try a four-player game, take a closer look at Anticipation.

And that about does it for yet another Mail Bag. Keep these cards and letters coming. Tell us about your tips, your local Power Club and don't forget to write in with your questions about getting through games. As always, the address is: Mail Bag, Nintendo Power Club, P.O. Box 922, Stollon U. Toronto, Ontario M8Z 5S5. Don't forget to include your name and address so we'll know who we're talking to. Adios!

THE LAST WORD

Well, actually, it's not really the last word, since we still have one more important topic to talk to you about on the back cover. But this is the wrap up of another issue. Hope you've enjoyed reading it as much as we enjoyed putting it together. Till next time, keep on keeping on, and always do it with Nintendo.
